DAY 2 | Hosted by L2 | Legal Plus
CONSTRUCTION CLAIMS & CIPAA CONFERENCE

Jointly Organised by

SOCIETY OF CONSTRUCTION LAW MALAYSIA

L2 | LEGAL PLUS

WELCOME MESSAGES

On behalf of the Society of Construction Law Malaysia, I am delighted to extend a warm welcome to all delegates, speakers, partners, and guests joining us for this landmark regional event in Kuala Lumpur.

This year's conference comes at an especially important time for the construction industry. Across Asia, projects are increasingly shaped by economic uncertainty, evolving legal and regulatory developments, rising project complexity, and changing approaches to risk and dispute management. Construction Law Week 2026 provides a valuable platform for industry professionals from across the region to come together, exchange perspectives, and engage in meaningful conversations on these emerging challenges.

It is truly a privilege for SCL Malaysia to host a regional conference of this scale and significance in Kuala Lumpur. We are particularly excited about the diversity of topics, speakers, and perspectives that will be shared over the course of the conference, and we hope that all delegates will find the sessions both professionally enriching and practically valuable.

Thank you for being part of Construction Law Week 2026, and we look forward to welcoming you in August.

Serene Hiew

President
SCL Malaysia

WELCOME MESSAGES

Dear friends in the Construction, Legal and ADR Community

On behalf of L2 | Legal Plus, it gives me great pleasure to warmly welcome all delegates, speakers, partners, and industry colleagues to the inaugural Construction Law Week 2026 ("CLW 2026"). Construction Law Week 2026 was initiated by L2 | Legal Plus as a flagship regional platform aimed at bringing together construction law practitioners, industry stakeholders, and dispute resolution professionals to engage in meaningful dialogue on the evolving legal, commercial, and practical challenges shaping the construction industry across Asia.

For this inaugural edition, we are especially pleased to collaborate with the Society of Construction Law Malaysia (SCL Malaysia) in delivering a specially curated programme that combines regional legal thought leadership with practical industry insight.

Day 1 of CLW 2026 is designed by SCL Malaysia under the theme 'Focus on Asia', bringing together regional perspectives and insights from leading practitioners. Day 2 of CLW 2026 will feature the signature Construction Claims & CIPAA Conference by L2 and Legal Plus, with a specific focus on Managing Construction Claims in Practice.

Through CLW 2026, we aim to take participants through the lifecycle of construction claims and dispute resolution, with insights from key players in the industry, including contractors, architects, quantity surveyors, lawyers, experts, adjudicators, arbitrators, judges, and arbitral institutions.

As we reflect on the development of CIPAA adjudication and construction dispute resolution, we also hope to explore the way forward, including what the construction industry truly needs in order to rethink construction claims, risk allocation, dispute avoidance and dispute resolution practices. We are excited to bring these meaningful and practical sessions to the construction community in 2026. To all our friends and colleagues, we look forward to seeing you this August at CLW 2026, reconnecting with old friends and meeting new friends throughout this exciting week.

ABOUT CONSTRUCTION WEEK

Construction Law Week 2026 is a regional platform that brings together construction law practitioners, industry stakeholders, claims professionals, and dispute resolution specialists from across Asia to discuss the evolving legal, commercial, and practical challenges affecting the construction industry.

Held under the overarching theme "Focus on Asia", the event aims to foster greater regional dialogue, professional collaboration, and knowledge exchange on issues relating to construction law, project risk, claims management, and dispute resolution. Against a backdrop of economic volatility, geopolitical uncertainty, supply chain disruption, and increasing project complexity, the construction sector continues to face growing pressure on project delivery, contractual relationships, and risk allocation.

Construction Law Week 2026 seeks to provide a platform for meaningful discussion on how the industry can respond to these evolving challenges through practical insight, regional perspectives, and constructive engagement between legal practitioners, industry professionals, and dispute resolution specialists.

The programme comprises two integrated conferences:

DAY 1
Hosted by SCL Malaysia

SCL MALAYSIA: FOCUS ON ASIA CONFERENCE BUILDING THROUGH UNCERTAINTY

A strategic regional conference examining emerging developments in construction law, evolving dispute trends, and the challenges affecting project delivery and risk management across Asia.

DAY 2
Hosted by L2 | Legal Plus

CONSTRUCTION CLAIMS & CIPAA CONFERENCE MANAGING CONSTRUCTION CLAIMS IN PRACTICE

A practical and commercially focused conference exploring the management of construction claims, evidentiary issues, delay and disruption analysis, quantum assessment, and adjudication under CIPAA 2012.

DAY 1 | OVERVIEW

SCL Malaysia: Focus on Asia Conference

THEME: Building Through Uncertainty

Hosted by SCL Malaysia

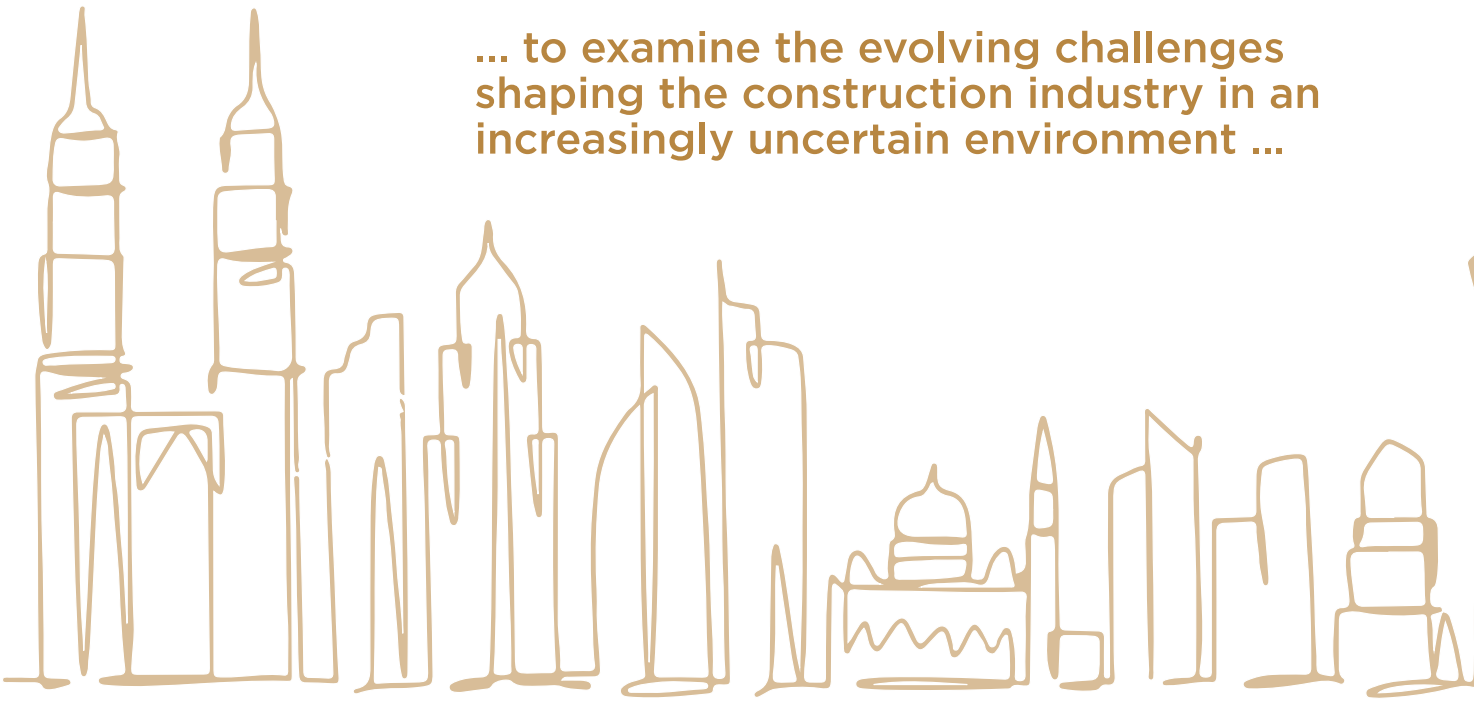

The SCL Malaysia: Focus on Asia Conference brings together construction law practitioners, industry stakeholders, and dispute resolution professionals from across Asia to examine the evolving challenges shaping the construction industry in an increasingly uncertain environment. Hosted by the Society of Construction Law Malaysia as part of Construction Law Week 2026, the conference serves as a regional platform for dialogue, knowledge exchange, and professional collaboration.

Construction projects today continue to face growing pressure from economic volatility, geopolitical uncertainty, supply chain disruption, rising costs, and increasing project complexity. These developments have significantly affected project delivery, risk allocation, and contractual relationships, contributing to a rise in claims and disputes across the construction sector.

Held under the theme "Building through Uncertainty", the conference will explore regional developments in construction law, emerging dispute trends, and practical approaches to managing project risk, delay, disruption, and escalation claims. The programme will also examine the evolving role of dispute resolution in supporting effective project delivery and strengthening industry resilience across Asia.

Featuring perspectives from leading practitioners and industry professionals, the conference aims to foster meaningful discussion on the legal, commercial, and practical challenges affecting construction projects across the region.

... to examine the evolving challenges shaping the construction industry in an increasingly uncertain environment ...

DAY 2 | OVERVIEW

Construction Claims & CIPAA Conference

THEME: Managing Construction Claims in Practice

Hosted by L2 | Legal Plus

The Construction Claims & CIPAA Conference brings together contractors, consultants, claims professionals, legal practitioners, experts, adjudicators, and dispute resolution specialists to examine the practical and commercial challenges shaping construction claims and dispute resolution in today's increasingly demanding project environment. Hosted by L2 | Legal Plus as part of Construction Law Week 2026, the conference serves as a platform for practical dialogue, knowledge exchange, and industry-focused discussion.

Construction projects today continue to face growing pressure arising from cost escalation, delay, disruption, contractual complexity, evidentiary challenges, and increasing scrutiny over project administration and payment practices. These developments have significantly impacted project delivery, claims management, risk allocation, and dispute resolution processes, contributing to a greater need for structured claims preparation and commercially effective dispute management.

Held under the theme "Managing Construction Claims in Practice", the conference will explore key issues affecting construction claims, including claims preparation, evidentiary requirements, delay and disruption analysis, quantum assessment, payment disputes, and adjudication under CIPAA 2012. The programme will also examine practical approaches to dispute avoidance, dispute resolution, and the evolving role of contractual and legal mechanisms in supporting effective project delivery.

Featuring perspectives from experienced practitioners and industry professionals, the conference aims to foster meaningful discussion on the legal, commercial, and practical considerations involved in managing construction claims and disputes across the industry.

... to examine the practical and commercial challenges shaping construction claims and dispute resolution in today's increasingly demanding project environment ...
