About this Workshop:

The Honourable Justice Quentin Loh in his keynote address at the SCL(S) Annual Construction Law Conference 2012, highlighted the importance of proper management of evidence; the proper state of preparation for hearings, including the use of Scott Schedules and Expert Witness Conferencing.

This updated 1st re-run of SCL(S) highly successful 2014 Workshop on Managing Construction Disputes & Resolution covers the increasingly interesting and relevant use of Scott Schedules and Expert Witness Conferencing often used in Mediation, Arbitration and Court proceeding.

The following are addressed in this workshop:

- The history and rationale of Scott Schedules, and explanation of their use in dispute resolution.
- Review of samples of Scott Schedules, and the application of Scott Schedules in practical workshop exercises.
- Sharing of experiences of both Expert Witness Conferencing and the use of Scott Schedules, in a Singapore context, under both Court and Arbitration contexts.

This workshop is highly recommended for all professionals involved in construction law, including lawyers, expert witnesses, arbitrators and officers of the Courts.

Please note that participants would be required to attend both sessions accordingly.
